for Girls*

HENRIETTA PEARSON

Always willing to help students through the ever-occurring problems and always ready with heart-felt congratulations when a long-strived-for goal is finally reached. Doing her part in all school activities and then adding a great deal more. This is Aunt Henri, and we give a long overdue thank-you and dedicate this yearbook to you, Aunt Henri.

ROWLAND HALL has deep significance for each individual involved in school life. Teachers and students share together its traditions and customs, forming a strong foundation of friendship and understanding between them. As a student becomes involved in school activities, her personal feelings toward the school deepen. Friendship, knowledge and memories are the things a student takes from Rowland Hall and treasures for the remaining days of her life.

MRS. ELIZABETH T. CORR

Mrs. Corr, as headmistress of Rowland Hall, directs the daily life of the school. With a gracious air, she meets and solves the many problems connected with the school. However, despite her busy schedule, she is always willing to listen to our problems, and give her advice on them.

With her help, the school functions properly, and each student is made to feel a part of the school family. Mrs. Corr, through her good judgment and kind understanding, is able to tie the whole school, from nursery through high school, into a unified body.

S. WATSON

Bishop Watson holds the Student Body's respect and love. He leads the school as head of the board; however, he has a significance to the students which goes even deeper than his legal position. Through his genuine love of the school, he has become our spiritual leader and advisor.

THE REV. FRANCIS L. WINDER

Father Winder, school chaplain, has, through his enthusiasm and interest, made our Chapel services more meaningful and important to the Student Body. Together with the Chapel Committee, he has worked to make all involved with the school feel that Chapel is both a personal and a group way in which to prepare for the school day. Through his efforts and kind understanding, Father Winder has won the love, and admiration of the school.

Upper School

High school further growth both academically and socially through studies, clubs and extra-curricular activities. These experiences form a basis for each girl's later life.

In high school, we are allowed more freedom to express and practice our ideas concerning every phase of school life than in lower school where we worked on basic skills which we are now learning to apply. The students participate actively in student government. Each girl is given certain responsibilities which help to prepare her for the duties she will have as an adult.

At this time of our lives, Roswell Hall tries to give us every opportunity to discover our goals in life. These years of exploring and learning give us an excellent chance to achieve these goals.

ROWLAND HALL'S many organizations build the characters of the students by placing certain responsibilities on them. These organizations give each girl the opportunity to express her views and to learn to work with others.

ALIX RISER

As President of the Student Body, Alix Riser heads the Student Government of Rowland Hall. She sets an example for every person in her large "family" of pupils. Her school spirit, intelligence, and sense of humor make Alix an asset to the life of Rowland Hall.

Chapel and Altar Guilds

The Chapel and Altar Guilds work together to make the chapel services orderly and effective. Since the chapel is so important to the life of each girl, many participate in one of the organizations.

The Chapel Guild is responsible for cleaning the chapel and the sacristy.

It is the duty of the Altar Guild to prepare the chapel for each service. The important daily duties of the Altar Guild are seeing that the proper colors for each season of the Church Year are placed upon the altar and Bible, and seeing that the psalm and hymn numbers are posted for the services.

Chapel Committee

The Chapel Committee is composed of class representatives, the Student Body president, and the crucifers of both Rowland Hall and St. Mark's Schools. These representatives are appointed by Bishop Watson, Father Winder, Mrs. Corr, and Mr. Bolbach.

The purpose of the Chapel Committee is to make the Chapel Service a more significant part of the lives of the students. It works on suggestions given to the class representatives from the student bodies of both schools, and discusses these suggestions at Friday morning meetings.

United Nations Club

This year a United Nations Club has been organized for the sophomore and junior classes. This club is sponsored by the University of Utah. The purpose of the U. N. Club is to help us to more fully understand World Affairs.

The members serve as assistants to the delegates who are active representatives of the Model U.N. They also help to write proposals, read about Egypt, which is being represented by Rowland Hall, and perform other duties connected with U.N. activities.

Athletic Association

Penny Diument, President; Leslie Roux, Vice President; Kathy Garner, Secretary.

Varsity Team

At Rowland Hall, every girl in the high school belongs to the Athletic Association. The goal of this organization is to promote good sportsmanship and school spirit.

Every girl belongs to either the Red or White team which compete in intramural games in an effort to gain points.

Red and White Team Captains Stephanie DeVine, Kathy McDevitt, Nancy Sorensen. Missing: Stephanie Papanikolas.

Cheerleaders

Helen Roberts, Wendy Ball, Cheri Barnard, Sue Sonderegger, Stephanie Papanikolas.

Publications

The LANTERN, LAMPLIGHTER, and ECHOES are Rowland Hall in written form. These school publications serve as a constant means of communication for the past, present, and future students. The LANTERN reminds us of the past by presenting pictorial and written documentation of school life. Our school newspaper, the LAMPLIGHTER, new tradition, describes present activities of students and alumni. ECHOES, the school literary publication, provides an opportunity for students to share with others original poems and stories.

Boarding Department

THE HOUSE COUNCIL, which aids Aunt Henri in governing the Boarding Department, is comprised of a president, vice president and representatives chosen from each class. The president, a senior, and the vice president, a junior, are elected by the boarders. The representatives are chosen by Mrs. Corr and Aunt Henri.

Mrs. Judd

Mrs. Reed

Our thanks to Phyllis and Verna, who work tirelessly to keep the boarding department and dining room spic and span.

Aunt Henri

Girls in the Boarding Department come from many different family backgrounds and from such far-away places as Canada and Peru. Among such girls, one finds many types of personalities.

Through the experiences of living and sharing together, these girls develop everlasting friendships and learn ways of adapting to group living.
